THE LEARNING PLACE

School's out! During summer vacation a gap in learning activities causes students to forget what they learned during the school year. Studies show that on average students lose 6 weeks of learning during their summer vacation. How can you stop the summer brain drain and boost achievement next school year?

TD Summer Reading Club keeps kids reading

Keep your child reading throughout the summer! This year's TD Summer Reading Club will be a wild adventure in the jungle. Reading Club members receive an awesome poster designed by an award winning illustrator, stickers to collect, and an activity book with a log to keep track of what they're reading. Throughout the summer there will be incentives to keep reading, fun programs and activities.
